

Barcelona and Camino Portuguese Way Departure

15 October 2019

The Camino Portugués (Portuguese Way) is the Medieval Way to get Santiago de Compostela. This is a very mystic way full of positive energy, belief and faith. This is the route that has been covered by thousands of pilgrims along the years since the 9th century. Considered the most spiritually connected pilgrimage route, following the path St James' body took to its resting place at the site of Santiago de Compostela, this quiet stage offers a wealth of history. From the lively city of Porto, set on the banks of the Douro River and famous for its port wine production, the journey north travels through small hamlets, past eucalyptus and pine woods, over ancient bridges and through larger market towns dating back to Roman times. Throughout the journey there are ample reminders of past pilgrims and the route offers many insights into the religious significance of the Camino. Visually stunning in parts, there are many advantages in walking the Portugués route with the ascent up to the highest point on the trail at Alto da Portela Grande (405m) rewarded with sweeping views of the Lima Valley below. Crossing the Spanish border and walking the last 100kms through Galicia to the holy city of Santiago ensures you qualify for the Compostela certificate upon your arrival at the cathedral.

Our route starts at the gorgeous city of Lisbon and it will take you through many stunning landscapes: from the city lights to the coast and back to the peaceful Portuguese countryside dotted with vineyards, forests and green rolling hills.

On your way, stop to admire the many little quaint towns and villages such as Coimbra, Porto, Tui or Caldas de Reis.

Our fully- guided tours are ideal for travelers looking to share their Camino experience with a small group. Guided tours are a great way to meet people along the walking routes and they are led by local guides with in-depth knowledge of the Camino de Santiago. They speak fluent English and can provide you with insights into the local culture.

Included in our guided tours is Accommodation in 3 star hotels, rural houses and Posadas with attached bathroom, breakfast included daily and most dinners. Bus support throughout the trip, Guided Sightseeing tours in certain cities along the way, Bus support at the beginning of the program and to the hotel at the end. (every day), English-language companion guide throughout the trip, walk with the group, All taxes and service charges at the hotels, Baggage transfer between hotels
